

COMMUNITY OREGON

Community Oregon is a program of Healthy Democracy designed in response to the need to increase understanding and communication among diverse segments of Oregon's electorate. Community Oregon will offer opportunities to create stronger and more resilient relationships among the state's citizenry in a way that will build and sustain a healthier democracy in Oregon.

program components

Community Oregon Camp

A 3-day retreat taking place from noon on Thursday, April 25 to noon on Sunday, April 28 at Lake Creek Resort in Camp Sherman (outside of Sisters in Central Oregon). A fun and challenging camp-like experience getting to know folks from all walks of life, led by facilitators from both urban and rural communities.

Community Oregon Exchange

An opportunity for immersion in a community significantly different than yours. One urban to rural, and one rural to urban community visit will take place between 6-12 weeks following the Community Oregon Camp retreat.

Community Oregon Expo

A one day exposition to take place in the Portland area in the fall that will include all Community Oregon participants and special invitees to showcase what you've learned and invite support for initiatives or projects you wish to develop or support as a result of your experience with the program.

program accommodations

Community Oregon participants will be reimbursed for all travel to the Community Oregon Camp, the Community Oregon Exchange, and the Community Oregon Expo. Expenses for accommodations for the Community Oregon Camp (and the fall Expo for those needing it) are also covered. Overnight accommodations for the Urban/Rural Exchanges will be comprised of host community homestays.

participant profile

Community Oregon cohorts will consist of approximately 20-25 participants. With the assistance of a variety of community-based organizations and associations, Healthy Democracy will invite their local contacts to assist with the outreach for Community Oregon participants. The ideal Community Oregon participant will be an active community member (i.e. a formal or informal thought leader) who has an interest in and the courage needed to engage in the sometimes difficult but rewarding process of re-building a sense of community across the state. The program seeks participants from a wide geographic area, and who are representative of the diversity of Oregon's population, including political perspective, age, occupation/professional sector, religion, race, national origin, and gender.
