

PROJECT OVERVIEW AND OPPORTUNITIES TO PARTICIPATE

Eighty percent of all housing in Eugene is designed as single detached houses, yet young adults, smaller families, and the growing population of elderly need housing options that increase access to public transportation and services, reduce maintenance costs, and provide more social opportunities. The Eugene Middle Housing Project will revise the land use code to improve housing choices in the short term and affordability in the long term for Eugene residents.

In 2019, the Oregon Legislature passed House Bill 2001, requiring cities to allow more types of housing in residential areas, particularly in more traditionally single-family neighborhoods where housing choices are limited. Revising Eugene's Land Use Code to comply with House Bill 2001 will shape how our community develops and expand opportunities for where people can choose to live and what type of home they live in.

Size and Shape Define Middle Housing

In between single-family houses and large apartment buildings are a range of housing types: duplexes, triplexes, quadplexes, townhouses, and cottage clusters. These housing types were more common before World War II, but face several barriers to development now and make up a small percentage of the overall housing in Eugene.

Opportunities to Participate

To involve all voices, this project is using a broad array of engagement strategies such as virtual meetings, online surveys, small group conversations with individuals who represent people who are not able to or do not typically attend meetings, robust virtual "office hours" to connect one-to-one with project staff, and ongoing communication via email, social media, press releases and the city website (see next page).
