

Matt HastieAICP, Project Manager

Matt Hastie has a wide range of education and experience in land use and transportation planning, environmental regulation, development codes, housing, and economic development issues. He has managed and provided assistance with numerous concept, sub-area, and master planning processes, as well as preparation of Comprehensive Plan and Development Code updates for local communities throughout Oregon, Idaho and Alaska. Matt has conducted stakeholder and public involvement services for numerous projects throughout the Pacific Northwest. He also has assisted with numerous housing and economic assessments and policy studies for cities and counties in Oregon. Matt is a member of the American Planning Association, has been a visiting lecturer on the faculty of the City and Regional Planning Department at Cornell University, and is a Past President of Women's Transportation Seminar (WTS) in Portland, Oregon.